DETECTIVES AS BULLDOZERS.

Brooklyn Policemen Charged with Closing a Saloon for Politics.

Welskopf Slagged Out as a Violator of the Excise Law.

Chief Campbell, of the Brooklyn police, was asked this morning to investigate charges against Detectives McCormick and Dennelly, who, it is claimed, are trying to intimidate certain saloon-keepers in the Twenty-second Ward by enforcing the Excise laws.

Adolph Von Wening called on Chief Campbell this morning and made a specific charge in the case of William Welskopf, who keeps a saloon at Fourteenth street and Hamilton avenue.

Von Wening said he was a member of the United States Democracy, an organization formed with branches in every ward, and which has decided to support Charles A. Schieren for Mayor. Last Wednesday night, Von Wening says, the organization met, and after endorsing Mr. Schieren and denouncing the Democratic ticket, the members of the organization were told to go to the saloon of William Welskopf and close it.

Detectives McCormick and Dennelly were in the saloon at the time, and it is said, noted the name of the saloon, and were heard to make inquiries about him.

Yesterday the detectives visited Welskopf's saloon while Mr. Wening was present, and after a long and bitter fight, the saloon was closed. Von Wening protested that other saloons were open in the vicinity of the station-house, and that he was being treated unfairly.

The sergeant at the desk said he would attend to the matter, but otherwise the complainant received little or no satisfaction.

Chief Campbell this morning advised that Mr. Murphy, a sharp rebuke and ordered the detectives to stop their interference with the saloon-keepers who were violating the Excise laws, and to allow police to interfere with the impartial discharge of their duties.

Lacardi, it is alleged, then drew a knife and slashed Andrea in the back and on the hips. He ran out of the saloon and at the door James Kennedy tried to arrest him.

Lacardi made a sweep with his knife, which narrowly missed striking Kennedy in the neck. The policeman drew his club, and finally James Kennedy, who was Lacardi's hand, struck him a stinging blow on the head. Lacardi fell senseless to the sidewalk.

Only a Permanent Receiver Could Take Such Action.

Justice Bartlett, of the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, in a decision handed down to-day, characterizes the action of William N. Lawyer Johnson Ordered to Sit Down by the Irate Magistrate.

He Protested Against the Method of Naturalizing Aliens.

United States District-Attorney Jesse Johnson and Judge Moore, sitting in the Court of Sessions, Brooklyn, clashed this morning over the methods employed by the Court in naturalizing aliens.

Although Mr. Johnson received a sharp rebuke, he succeeded in stopping the proceedings and carrying his point, much to the disgust of Deputy Clerk York, who had 200 aliens in the whom he was naturalizing at a rapid rate.

Mr. Johnson, representing the Republicans, appeared on the scene and claimed the naturalization was improper as, he claims, nobody has the authority to interrogate the applicants except Judge Moore, and that the oath must be administered in the presence of the judge.

Mr. Johnson protested and Clerk York suggested that they go before Judge Moore and hear his opinion.

When Mr. Johnson, accompanied by Lawyer Jacob Brenner, also acting for the Republicans, appeared before Judge Moore, Clerk York whispered something in his ear.

Mr. Johnson, who was flushed as he heard the whispered communication, looking up he said:

DELFINO IS TO DIE DEC. 4.

The Murderer Resentenced in Brooklyn This Morning.

He Killed Mrs. Caroline Gesell in a Tenement House.

John Delfino, who shot and killed Mrs. Caroline Gesell about a year ago in a tenement-house in Degraw street, Brooklyn, was resented to death by Justice Brown, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, Brooklyn, this morning.

The case commenced Dec. 4, 1893, was the time fixed for his execution.

Delfino was found guilty of murder in the first degree on his trial. The case was appealed, and the Court of Appeals sustained the verdict of the trial court.

Delfino was very pale when brought into court by State Detective Jackson, of Sing Sing, this morning. District Attorney Ridgway moved for the resentencing of the murderer.

Justice Brown appeared for Delfino. He said that everything had been done in Delfino's behalf that could be done, and that the case was only a matter of time.

He said a petition was being prepared to present to the Court of Appeals, and that he was sure Delfino would be allowed to stay.

Delfino did not intend to shoot this woman. It was an accident. It was an accident. It was an accident.

Justice Brown said that all he could do was to fix a day for execution, and that he was bound to do by the Court of Appeals.

His family turned out.

Now Boehneke Wants $15,000 from Lawford and Constable.

Justice Landan and a jury, in Circuit Court, Brooklyn, today heard testimony in a suit brought by Frank E. Boehneke against Joseph A. Lauby, a constable attached to Justice Peterson's Civil Court, and Henry Schreiner, the owner of a house at 64 Huron street, to recover $15,000 damages for wrongfully ejecting him from the premises.

Boehneke alleges that in August, 1892, Schreiner, who seeks to bring dispossess proceedings against him, the case was set for hearing Sept. 1. On that date Boehneke went to the court, and in the absence of Schreiner, who failed to appear, he secured an adjournment for one day.

Boehneke came home and found Lauby placing his household furniture on the premises. He was told that his six children were forced to leave the house and take refuge in a vacant house in the neighborhood.

Boehneke alleges that the constable who ejected him from the house, and the defendants deny the allegations, and assert that Justice Peterson had ordered the ejectment of Boehneke on the day he secured an adjournment.

LACKAWANNA'S BIG JUMP.

Ten Points Gained Over Saturday's Closing Price.

Rumors of Another Coal Combine Makes Trading Lively.

Operators were treated to a degree of activity in the stock market this morning that was entirely unexpected. Prices ran off about 1-2 to 1 per cent in the early part of the morning, owing to the views from Washington indicating further delay on the repeal measure, but just as the bears thought they had the market to themselves the coal stocks bobbed up serenely and scored some sharp advances.

It begins to look like another big coal deal, and if anything has really been accomplished the insiders have managed to keep things pretty quiet.

The story which finds most credence is one to the effect that the Jersey Central people have secured control of the Lackawanna, and that the Delaware & Hudson is working in with them on the subject.

President Sloan, of the Lackawanna, declined to make any statement in regard to the matter, but Mr. J. Rogers Maxwell, President of the Jersey Central, consented to be interviewed on the subject.

Mr. C. F. Fehnestock, of the First National Bank, was very explicit in his statement that the Jersey Central had secured control of the Lackawanna, and that the Delaware & Hudson is working in with them on the subject.
